

How to Find the Instructional Method for a Course Section

Just as in the current term, courses in the spring term will be taught in three different formats, or instructional methods – face-to-face (Lecture), online (WEB), and via zoom or teams (Synchronous Distance Learning). All of these courses will be found under the CA Lebanon Campus location when you are filtering to find courses.

Please note, depending on our need to social distance, face-to-face courses may be a hybrid of face-to-face and distance learning, just as they are this semester. We will not know until closer to the spring term if that will be the case.

Below are instructions on how to tell the instructional methods for Lebanon campus courses.

1. Face-to-face courses: Under the Locations heading, face-to-face courses will show the classroom the course is meeting in and will say Lecture underneath the room number. Under the Times section, the days and times will be noted.
